JGIM Web Submission Guidelines for Clinical Images

Please send submissions and correspondence to the editors at Clinimages.webjgim@gmail.com.

Attach to your email, the following as attachments:

1. Document (Microsoft Word or Open Office or RTF)

Clinical images are presented as “unknowns”. Please ensure that the title or clinical description do not give away the answer. Please organize the document into:

- Title of the work (<40 characters including spaces)

- Body (<500 words)

 - Clinical description - brief history, examination and findings from investigations

 - Teaching (Take home) point(s)

 - References up to 2

- One or two MCQs that reinforce the teaching point.

- Brief bio (<100 words) of the author, including position (medical student, resident, fellow) and institution (up to 4 authors)

DO NOT embed images in this document. Provide them as separate files.

2. Image(s) .jpg or .png format, B/W or color, up to 2 images <2 MB each (contact editor for submitting videos or larger files). Images have to be provided as separate files (not embedded in a document). Make sure the images do not have patient identifiers.

Naming convention: For the article, "Title" by Dr. Jones, save as follows:
Title_doc_Jones.doc and Generic_Image1_Jones.doc and Generic_Image2_Jones.doc

3. Patient consent form

4. Copyright form

Review process

All submissions will be reviewed by the section editor. The editor will review contributions for originality, style, and content. The editor will respond usually within 2 months with either an acceptance, conditional acceptance, request for revision and resubmission, or rejection.

Patient consent/confidentiality

Our confidentiality policy is based on the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA). Please refer to this document with regards to any questions about patient confidentiality: <http://www.hhs.gov/ocr/privacy/> . Please obtain patient consent and keep a copy in your permanent files. The corresponding author needs to sign and submit the form stating that they obtained patient consent along with any submission.

Copyright and indexing in MEDLINE

The pieces published on JGIM Web Edition are NOT indexed in MEDLINE and NOT published in the print journal. Once published on JGIM Web, requests for “unpublishing” will not be entertained.

Authors do retain the copyright to materials published on JGIM Web and they can repurpose the content for submission elsewhere. However, once submitted, authors must wait until the review process has been completed by the JGIM Web Editorial team prior to submitting elsewhere. Also, we request that authors contact us if a piece that we previously published is accepted in another journal, and we ask that you reference the Journal of General Internal Medicine - Web Edition as the original publisher in subsequent publications of the article. Please do not submit work that has already been published elsewhere.

The corresponding author needs to sign and submit the copyright form along with any submission.
