

FROM THE SOCIETY: PART II

Announcement of Additional Award Winners from the 36th Annual Meeting

Francine Jetton, MA

Ms. Jetton is Director of Communications at SGIM and can be reached at jettonf@sgim.org.

The Society of General Internal Medicine presented the following awards for presentations given during the 36th Annual Meeting in Denver, CO, held April 24-27, 2013. SGIM is pleased and proud to announce the recipients by award.

Recognition Awards

The Exemplary Clinical Workshop Award recognizes those who present an outstanding clinically focused workshop at the SGIM annual meeting. All workshops presented at the annual meeting are considered for this award. This year's recipient is Jennifer Corbelli, MD, from the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center for her workshop, titled "Is Pregnancy a Stress Test? The AHA Guidelines for Prevention of CVD in Women: A Woman's Heart from Pregnancy to Menopause."

Three David E. Rogers Junior Faculty awards were given to junior faculty for workshops judged the most outstanding among those presented at the SGIM annual meeting. To be eligible, the workshop coordinator must be an SGIM member and faculty at the instructor or assistant professor level at the time of presentation. The Zlinkoff Fund for Medical Education endows these awards. The three recipients in 2013 are:

- Carlin Senter, MD, University of California San Francisco, "The Diagnosis-Driven Physical Exam of the Knee and Shoulder: A Hands-On Workshop"
- Gwen Crevensten, MD, Massachusetts General Hospital, "Managing Admissions and Readmissions: A Multi-Institutional Review of Current Practices and Innovations"
- Patrick T. Lee, MD, Massachusetts General Hospital, "'RePlay Health': A Serious Game for Understanding US Health System Dynamics and Policy Interventions"

The Women in Medicine Task Force has an annual awards program to acknowledge the best women's health oral abstract presentation and the outstanding women's health poster. Trainees and junior faculty members who submit abstracts in the women's health category at the SGIM annual meeting are eligible. This year the recipients are:

- Women's Health Oral Abstract Award: Sonya Borrero, MD, of the University of Pittsburgh for her abstract, titled "Contraceptive Adherence Among Women Veterans: Differences by Race/Ethnicity and Contraceptive Supply"
- Women's Health Poster Award: Wendy Bennett, MD, MPH, of Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine for her poster, titled "Predictors of Postpartum Primary Care Utilization for Women with Medically Complicated Pregnancies: An Analysis of Medical Claims"